A message from the Governor

April 2006

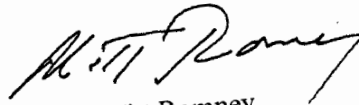

Dear Friends:

On behalf of the Commonwealth of Massachusetts, I extend greetings as you gather for the Statewide Training and Resources (STAR) 2006 Exposition. It is my pleasure to welcome you to Boston.

The STAR Exposition has grown to be the largest trade show of statewide contractors in the Commonwealth. This exhibition provides a great opportunity to improve and facilitate communication, understanding, teambuilding and networking. I commend the organizers for their hard work, and I applaud the participants for their continued dedication and commitment to improving quality, efficiency and productivity in the Bay State.

Best wishes for an enjoyable and successful exposition.

Sincerely,

Mitt Romney

A Message From the State Purchasing Agent

On behalf of the staff at the Operational Services Division, I'd like to welcome you to the STAR 2006 Exposition. For one big day, you have an opportunity to meet many of the statewide contractors available to provide the commodities and services needed by your agency, city, town, authority, commission or not for profit organization.

If you have questions about existing products or services, the companies represented here will probably have the answers. If you have questions about Statewide Contracts or about the procurements being planned, staff at OSD are in attendance and available to help you. Please take advantage of your time here to visit the exhibitor booths and participate in the diverse training opportunities offered. The STAR event is 100% contractor supported and funded from the sale of exhibitor booths and sponsorships. At the end of your day at STAR, we hope that you leave with fresh ideas, updated information and new contacts.

Finally, I would like to extend a special THANK YOU to all those involved helping to make STAR 2006 a success, our vendors on contract, the departments offering training, the many volunteers and the staff at OSD.

Thank you for coming and enjoy STAR 2006!

Sincerely,

Ellen Bickelman
State Purchasing Agent

Education Workshops & Vendor Training Sessions

Workshops

Operational Services Division – It's More Than Contracts

9:00 – 9:45 Room 1 Waterfront

Did you know that OSD has a group dedicated for printing services for the Commonwealth? What about selling, or purchasing surplus property? Automobiles? OSD has a number of programs that can help you from choosing Environmentally Preferable Products, to Comm-PASS training, to Vehicle Management and more! Come to the workshop offered by the Quality Assurance Team at OSD and see how OSD is here to help you!

Presenter: Hilary Olsen, OSD Trainer

It's Your Future! Retirement Planning for Public Employees

9:30 – 10:15 On-Floor Vendor Training Area

It's every employee's dream to retire in comfort after having worked many years. As a Massachusetts government employee, you can join your employer's 457 Deferred Compensation Plan which allows you to contribute a portion of your income and postpone paying current income taxes. Learn how to determine your retirement goals and identify the investments available to meet those goals. Find out what a financial planning professional can do for you, learn about the "Retirement Readiness" services available to help you create a personal investment or retirement plan. Take charge of your future! Learn how the Public Employee Deferred Compensation Plan benefits can set you on the right course to a retirement free of financial worries and obligations.

Presenter: Howard Nellhaus, CFP® – ING Financial Advisers, LLC Robert J. Andreola, CFP®

Comm-PASS Overview

10:00 – 10:45 Room 2 Waterfront

An update regarding the Comm-PASS system activity. This state of the art, Web-based procurement document management system is open to every eligible public entity's purchasers at no charge. Did you know that:

- Comm-PASS provides a list of Statewide Contract by category, a list of awarded vendors by contract, and user guidance documents?
- Construction law requires all awarding authorities to post on Comm-PASS for projects valued at $10 million or more or that uses a Construction Manager at Risk?
- OSD accepts online responses from subscribed bidders seeking Statewide Contracts?
- Comm-PASS eliminates administration tasks associated with bid questions by letting bidders submit and purchasers respond online?
- The Business Directory allows public purchasers to search among more than 1,200 subscribed vendors by category-subcategory or company name?

Come hear activity statistics, success stories and learn how this tool can work for you whether you are a purchaser or bidder.

Presenter: Joan Matsumoto, Operational Services Division, Manager of eProcurement Systems

A Day in the Life with Outlook - Microsoft Office System ®

10:45 – 11:30 On-Floor Vendor Training Area

The presentation is focused on connected productivity in Office System 2003 and is heavily Outlook focused. See the power of collaboration and information management inherent in Office 2003! Topics include Outlook; New Message Notification, Reading Pane, Arrange by Conversation, Favorite Folders, Junk Email, Expanded Distribution Lists, Shared Attachments, Color Coding Appointments, Shared Calendars, Meeting Workspace, Document Workspace Invitation, and More! Learn about One Note and Sharepoint! Word information includes Reading Layout, Smart Tags, Structured Editing and Saving Documents to Workspace. Excel information will include linked lists

Presenter: Pamela Conway, CompuWorks System, Inc. Director of Business Development.

Save Money with Prompt Payment Discounts!

11:00 – 11:45 Room 1 Waterfront

The Commonwealth has multi billion dollar business relationships with various business entities and negotiates Prompt Pay Discount terms with its vendors on contracts. Come learn how you too can save money applying these discounts to your purchases!

Presenter: Michael Weld Eyob, Office of the Comptroller, Director, Accounts Payable Bureau

Dealing with Failure on Your Way to Success

1:00 – 2:00 Room 1 Waterfront

This course will focus on the inevitable roadblocks and difficulties we all face in our working careers. We will look at how to deal with failure, how to learn from it, how to plan to succeed and how to motivate yourself to get back on track and on target for where you want to go next.

Presenter: Dr. E. Wallace Coyle of E. Wallace Coyle Associates, President

Managing the Aging Work Force - Maximizing Mutual Interests

1:15 – 2:00 Room 2 Waterfront

This workshop presents an overview of the challenges in Massachusetts and other states as it faces increasing demands for service to its citizens with a workforce that is projected to have significant loss of key skills and knowledge due to retirements and other 'skill drains'. The workshop also presents a management model to create an action plan to anticipate and manage these risks. Strategies currently in use by a number of states, including creative private-public partnerships and maximizing the opportunities of employees in the workforce will be discussed.

Presenter: Patrick Donohue, Principal, Deloitte Consulting

Introduction to Open Source

1:30 – 2:15 Room 3 Waterfront

One of the biggest buzz words in the IT industry today is "Open Source." Find out exactly what Open Source is and get practical expertise on how to leverage existing and emerging technologies within your enterprise. The session will provide a high level overview of what Open Source is, define what separates Open Source software from traditional software, explore several Open Source projects, and provide practical ways to begin to use various Open Source products.

Presenter: Tim Vaverchak, Manager of the Commonwealth's Information Technology Department Open Source Development Group.

The Exciting World of Working with PDF's Adobe Acrobat 7.0 ®

2:00 – 2:45 On-Floor Vendor Training Area

This presentation is focused on productivity in Adobe Acrobat 7.0 and includes topics such as sharing electronic documents, performance, usability, security and accessibility. Attendees are sure to walk away with new information on how to use Adobe Acrobat 7.0!

Presenter: Mark Sawyer, New Horizons, Training Supervisor, Principal Applications Instructor, CIW-MD, CIW-CI

STAR 2006 ACKNOWLEDGES Procurement Management Teams

Procurement Management Team participation requires each team member to efficiently balance professional and personal team work demands. Team work also involves commitment to achieve objectives established by a team each year. That commitment also requires an understanding from supervisors and managers that a staff person's participation on a Procurement Management Team (PMT) is a win-win situation from all involved.

Team work – it transcends all we do and can be contagious. Below is a list, alphabetized by first name, of those who have supported and/or served on a PMT this past year:
